BY THE GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN.

Proclamation.

The custom which set apart the thirtieth day of May in each year for special commemoration of the services and sacrifices of the soldiers and sailors to whose unequalled valor and abiding fidelity we are indebted for the preservation of our government and the unity of our nation, has received official recognition in Wisconsin, and that day has been added to the list of legal holidays, and when it falls on Sunday, the succeeding Monday is a legal holiday.

In deference to this provision of law, and in order to secure the cooperation of all classes of citizens in the memorial services appropriate to the occasion, the orders heretofore issued from the National and Department Headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic, designating Saturday, May 29th, as the Memorial Day for the current year, have been modified, and the members of that organization advised to observe the succeeding Monday.

Therefore, I, WILLIAM E. SMITH, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do recommend that the patriotic men, women and children in this State unite to keep and observe

Monday, the 31st Day of May, instant, as a memorial holiday in fact.

We owe it to ourselves, to our country, to posterity, and above all, to the memory of the patriots dead, to strew with the choicest of spring flowers the grave of every Union soldier in Wisconsin, and thereby bear public testimony that the names and fame of our dead heroes have not faded from our remembrance, but endure and shall endure throughout all coming years, even as the flowers appear and reappear in never-ending succession.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the Capitol, in the city of Madison, thirteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty. WILLIAM E. SMITH.

THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 2d day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominees of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.

THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

A harmonious Republican Convention at Chicago, and a good nomination, will cost the Democratic party a great many thousands and votes.

When the National Republican Convention makes a nomination, it should make one which will win. It will not be difficult to do that.

Those who have been vociferously shouting that certain candidates are "way ahead" with votes to spare, will learn that there is some difference between reality and speculation.

There are now seventeen hundred bills before Congress, and yet an adjournment is talked of on the 31st. With but few exceptions it would be a good thing if the seventeen hundred bills were wiped out of existence.

Miss Mary Anderson, who is now considered the hope of the American stage, gave 238 performances during her dramatic season, which began on the 8th of last September. The total receipts during that time were $242,619, and her profits amount to $75,000. For eight months' work this income is pretty good. It shows that the public will rush to hear Mary Anderson.

Mr. Tilden is not altogether unconcerned about the Republican National Convention. The nomination of Washburne will blast the Sage's hope of again being elected to the Presidency. He knows this, and the old man has a glimmer of hope that the Convention will make a blunder. But in this he will be disappointed.

The Inter Ocean, which is as "badly off" on the Presidential question as it was when it was seduced by the Greenbackers two years ago, makes an easy job of it in figuring out General Grant's nomination on the first ballot. Without the 42 votes from Illinois, it gives him 346 votes in the Convention. To do this, it gives him the 70 from New York and 58 from Pennsylvania, neither of which he will get solidly, as the unit rule has been broken in both States. It also gives him three from Wisconsin, which is another mistake the Inter Ocean makes. That paper will find its political judgment much below par when the National Convention meets and does its work.

The Springfield Convention will take place to-morrow, and the result will be looked for with unusual interest. It is possible that the friends of General Grant will have a majority in the Convention, but it is doubtful if the unit rule will be enforced. But should the 42 votes of Illinois be given to General Grant, he will then lack 56 of a nomination. What will be done at Springfield to-morrow, will be of deep concern to the Republican party of Illinois. If Logan, Sturts, Tuthill and others propose to bolt or to vote as they did in the Cook County Convention, there will be a lively time at Springfield and the result will be anything but advantageous to the Republicans. It is hoped that the Convention will be governed by a spirit of harmony and by principles of common sense and justice.

States Senators, and that one million dollars worth of bonds were distributed among the members of the House. The writer of the letter is one J. A. George, a contractor. He offers to produce all the evidence necessary to sustain the charges. No action was taken, as no one knew whether the fellow was responsible or not. It looks as if he was anxious for a little cheap notoriety, and took this method to obtain it. There may be a shadow of truth in the charges, but the chances stand nine out of ten against him. Investigations of the character called for by the writer of the letter, have proved quite expensive, and no good has resulted therefrom. They give special committees a nice job for several months, and that is about all there is to it.

The re-union of the survivors of the late war of the rebellion, which will take place in June, will be one of the most important military gatherings seen in the west since the days of the war. It will take place in Milwaukee, beginning on the 8th of June and will hold for three days. The contractors have agreed to furnish 100,000 loaves of bread: 20,000 rolls; 20,000 cakes of corn bread; 2,000 bushels of beans; 72,000 of pounds of corned beef; 100 hams; 600 head of cattle; 5,000 bushels of potatoes; 20,000 gallons of coffee; 25,000 pies; 20,000 dozen of eggs; besides many other articles that cannot be mentioned in detail. Governor Smith has secured 1,000 hospital tents, in which the soldiers will sleep during the re-union. There will not be anything left undone to make the re-union a success. It will be a season of great festivities, and will be attended by General Grant, General Sherman, General Phil Sheridan, and other military men of worldwide fame.

Miss Francis E. Willard, formerly of this city, is among the distinguished persons who are attending the General Conference at Cincinnati. She is known as one of the most accomplished female orators in this country, and in scholarship she has hardly a superior. On Monday a resolution was offered in the Conference reciting the evils of intemperance, and closed with an invitation to Miss Willard to address the Conference on the subject for ten minutes. A ten-minute speech from Miss Willard on any subject is a rare treat, but to name this young lady from among the scores of eminent doctors of divinity, and well-known pulpit orators, seemed to some a step too far, and an attempt was made to extend the invitation to others, but there was no disposition to hear anybody else, and after much feeling had been aroused and some wrangling gone through with, an adjournment was reached, and the original resolution was lost. Wherever Miss Willard goes there is a strong desire to hear her, and the Quadrennial Conference would have heard a splendid bit of oratory had she been permitted to take the floor.

There are no further developments in the Whittaker case. The proceedings are near to a close, and the result of last Saturday's work will probably do much to influence the court in deciding against the cadet. The opinion of the experts that the note of warning was in the handwriting of Whittaker, must not be taken as conclusive evidence. There is a strong probability that the note was a forgery, and that the whole scheme was simply a conspiracy to ruin the friendless cadet. The extreme haste with which General Schofield and all hands at West Point adopted to make the country believe that Whittaker committed the outrage upon himself, shows that there is a desire by the officers and cadets at West Point to take the opinions of the experts final and conclusive. But there is another side to the case which is worthy of some consideration. Whittaker's many bearing throughout the severe investigation, and especially his coolness, and straightforward replies on Saturday, under a painful and lingering cross-examination, are some very strong points in his favor. These will have weight with an unprejudiced public, and it will not rush to the conclusion that he is guilty. Whatever may be the result of the investigation, some important facts have been revealed. It has been discovered that there has been a conspiracy at West Point to defeat the public wish, that this conspiracy sought to make the attendance of colored cadets almost impossible, "by absolutely cutting him off from all recognition as completely as if he were not a human being at all, but merely a stick or a stone."

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION AND THE CANDIDATES.

The struggle in the Chicago Convention will be, in our judgment, on the election of its temporary chairman. Two nominations for that position will doubtless be made—one representing actively and aggressively the interests of General Grant, and the other massing the combined strength of what may be termed in the language of the turf, "the field." The first will be supported by those who are for General Grant first, last, and all the time; the second by those who are wholly opposed to General Grant, assisted by friends of the other candidates, and those who have Grant as second or third choice.

If the temporary chairman be a Grant man it will show that the General has a clear majority in the Convention, and the first ballot will bring him all the doubtful, wavering, and "policy" delegates—probably two-thirds of the Convention.

The nomination will then be made unanimous—or so nearly so that it will practically amount to the same thing. A dozen at most may dissent.

On the other hand, if the test on temporary chairman be not favorable to General Grant, we firmly believe that his name will not be put before the Convention. His nomination could only be reached, if reached at all, after numerous ballots, during which time so much of distempered and the tone of the speeches was very firm. Every man present was prepared to fight it out to the bitter end. The St. Clair fellows made rousing speeches, showing clear grit and remarkable oratorical powers. They will be able champions of the Cook County cause on the floor of the Convention. A Committee of arrangement, composed of three delegates from Cook and two from St. Clair, was appointed to take care of the Washburne interests until the full delegation from Cook arrived.

A compromise much talked of, and the one most favored by some leading Grant men, is this: The admission of two-thirds of the Farwell Hall delegation and one-third of the Palmer House delegation, with the understanding that the Ohio resolution, instructing the delegates at large and requesting the district delegates to vote for the choice of the Convention, shall be adopted.

EXCESSIVE ANXIETY, or PROLONGED
STUDY, will produce indolence in the Nervous System, and a relaxation of the strength of that system, extended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish.
In proportion as the system becomes weak, every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer nerve prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes to the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the stomach, the bowels, and so on, according to the condition of the heart.

Reverts to the mind, the brain, the heart,

to the condition of the heart.

MILTON.

the beginning. The court has the first right here, and the court has numerous relatives. Luces appeared first in "Carmen." Of course all the royal family were at the opera to greet her. The Princess Frederick Karl considered the occasion so much of a festival that she had her gala carriage drawn out, and drove from her door in coach and four with liveried footmen and horses in finest trappings. Storms of applause greeted the old favorite on her appearance; some one called her "Kusch," and the orchestra played a fanfare, a triumphant flourish. The papers the next day declared that she never acted and never sang better. In short, our Luces had not grown old.

I believe few monarchs reign more absolutely than the singer in her short day.
The crowds who sought tickets for Luces's second evening were as eager as before, and yet when the time in which she was to have sung arrived the great opera house was dark. No dorschies, no coaches drove to the door; no stately and classing officers stood about the entrance to watch the ladies as they stepped from their carriages. This is an every evening sight in Berlin, and the stiffness and darkness were then and there most uninvited.
It is all a mere supply that one little woman was hoarse, and her husband must wait until she was better. It is not just now easy to give Luces her place. Those who say she is not equal to Patti or Nilsson, but the difference is not in her complexion. Who would think of declaiming that Fraulein Lehmann was not equal to Patti or Nilsson? In the opinion of many Luces has the "divine spark" of genius that cannot be acquired by the most unweary study or caught by the hottest pursuit. It may be that she has not a glimmer of it. Malin-ger has more schul but all the schul in the world cannot move as even the faintest glimmer of the "divine spark."

Strangers in town last week thought there had been a fire in several of the houses about town, because the furniture was all piled up in the front yards, but their fears were calmed by the information that the denizens were "cleaning house."
It was a bad week for peddlers and tract-distributors.

Davidson Bros. shipped a car load of live hogs to Chicago last Wednesday.

H. P. Clarke, the Broadhead druggist, was in town last week. He is looking pale and heavy.

The Corset Band have been engaged to furnish music for the commencement exercises of Milton College by the class of '80. This is the sixth engagement of the Band for that purpose.

Robert Stockman shipped a car load of yearlings to Spencer, Iowa last week,
where they will be pastured this season.

Close of the sacrifice is good, but budge is better. Shoot the proud reader anyhow.

Dr. Borden sold his roadster to Button Bro's last week for a hundred and fifty dollars. He matches out that they own it now.

Luces has one of the best croquet grounds in the village, having scattered and levelled it mostly.

The macaque head gait of the class of '80 is stunning. It is a cross between a pug and a coal scuttle with a remarkable resemblance to those worn by late arrivers from the Green Isle.

Every body who owns a list pole
takes himself to Rock river these days.

The college's a circus will present a dramatic entertainment at an early date.

The pony party for Rev. E. M. Dunn and family on the evening of the 11th inst. was a success, both in numbers and pounds, and also a surprise to the rec-lused gentlemen.

Dr. Borden is making an improvement in his door yard that adds much to the appearance thereof. He had the old tire removed and the lot graded and will have new sod put on making a handsome lawn.

Ferris has finished his egg preserving job and has nine thousand dozen in stocks. Hope the hen fruit will make him much wealth.

A. W. Baldwin is having the house and barn on his farm painted. Millard is doing the job.

Olof Bull's rendition of The Mocking Bird, the finest violin solo that we ever listened to and alone worth the price of admission.

Dr. Borden is a good man.

It can be cured.

There is no doubt in my mind that Luces is the best singer in the world.

TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1880.

Official Paper of the City and County.

BRIEFLISTS.

—Moonlight evenings.
—The cows couldn't cow all the Aldermen.
—Prof. Hersee and family have taken up quarters at the Grand hotel.
—The annual inspection of the Fire Department takes place this evening.
—It seems a blessed relief not to have a Council wrangling all the time about lamp-posts.
—Young Hoyt is getting along quite comfortably, considering the injuries he received.
—The schoolchildren are "Oh, be joyous." School lets out a half-hour earlier than of old.

—A number of very respectable citizens, in whom all have had confidence, have pleaded guilty to "hooking" fish lately.

—Mrs. Chester Bailey seems to be better for a few days past, but still there is little hope for her ultimate recovery.

—Dexter Drury, one of Beloit's prominent business men, died at his home in that city on Monday evening, aged 62 years.

—John R. Bennett is to give the opening address at the Old Settlers' reunion in the town of Turtle, May 27. A good choice.

—One of the Aldermen openly declares that he will not vote for anyone as Street Commissioner, good or bad. He don't believe in it.

—A Beloit young man, found guilty of petit larceny, was brought to the jail last evening, and given permission to remain for thirty days.

—Ed Goky, one of the young men who assaulted young Donovan early Sunday morning, was to-day brought into the Police Court and fined $1 and costs.

—Sell Brother's circus and menagerie passed through Beloit on Sunday, and showed in Boscobel yesterday. Wisconsin is getting to be the battle field for circuses this season.

—Robert McLean, who has been away from his usual post in Croft & Sherer's drug store for several days, is still very ill indeed, with inflammation of the lungs. To-day shows no improvement.

—Frank McKee, the press agent of Coup's show, was in the city to-day. He is every inch a gentleman, and though young in years has an old head, and understands his business thoroughly.

—A commotion was created in town at half-past three o'clock by the report that the Northwestern round house was on fire. The engines turned out promptly, but it was soon learned that the fire was located in a small building near the round house, owned by Mr. Daniel Sullivan.

—The tax payers won't need to go down in their pockets to pay for a new fence around the Court House park now, as the cows are to be shut up. The present fence is in such a condition as to require immediately an expenditure of several hundred dollars, had the cow ordinance not passed last night.

—War has broken out again in Black Hawk. Mrs. Brown complains of Bridge Farrel, sometimes called "Buddy of the Bush," for abusing animals. The case is to come before Justice Brooks one week from Friday. The old neighborhood feud have flared up for nearly two months, and none will be surprised at this resurrection.

—Henry Lovejoy and wife, not only surprised their relatives and friends here by making an unannounced visit to the city, but surprised them still more by bringing with them a five months' old babe, whose advent into the world had been kept a profound secret, and served as a joyous surprise indeed to the family friends here.

—There was quite a row of the Knights of Pythias perched upon the banks of the happy fishing ground yesterday. Joe Dot headed the line, and Charlie Potter brought up at the foot, while between these two were ranged Fred Prentice, C. E. Moseley, Clark Ranous, Frank Cook and A. E. Morse. Their bat took well, and they brought home several strings and some fish.

—Mayor Cobb, and Ald. Barnes, Conrad, Murdock, Norris and Nowlan, merit the hearty thanks of all those who desire to see the city freed from the cow nuisance, and who desire to have the streets and yards beautified instead of despoiled. They served up last night, and voted in favor of shutting up the cows and having the city become civilized like other cities. Their action shows that they prefer to do the right thing, rather than cater to a few selfish grumbler who threatened to show their claws at the polls, unless they can have their own way.

—Mrs. Edmund Johnson died, last evening, at her home, corner of Academy and Holmes street. She has been in poor health for some time, but the immediate cause of her death was gastric fever. Mr. Johnson is away from home, having gone to Deadwood about three weeks ago. The sad news has been sent him by telegraph, and it is hoped that he will be able to reach home in time for the funeral, which will probably be on Thursday next. Mrs. Johnson leaves several children, there being three daughters and one son at home, and another daughter, Mrs. Joseph Ward, living at Stoughton.

Newly furnished, everything the best, ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK.

UNDER FOOT.

About noon to-day as William Clark was riding along on a load of manure, which he was taking from Graham's hotel to Schnell's place on Milton avenue, he slid off the front part of the load, and fell just behind the horse's feet. As he fell he still clung to the lines, which made the horse stop and back, so that Clark was trampled on. It was supposed at first that he was very badly injured, but Dr. Palmer, on being called, found that there were no fractures. Clark's worst wound was a bad cut over the right temple, but it was thought that a very serious result will follow.

SHIPS AT SEA.

The City Marshalship and Street Commissionership still Afloat—The City Fathers "tie" up the Cows—Business of Interest and Importance.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held last evening, all the Aldermen present and the Mayor presiding. The new Council still seem determined to do their business in a quiet manner without any wrathy wrangling, and in this respect show a marked improvement over the preceding body. Perhaps they have not yet got well enough acquainted yet, and want to get more used to their chairs before engaging in personal skirmishes, but certain it is that they for their preserve becoming dignity and civility. Last evening, although some important matters were decided, there was no cause of complaint as to the manner of discussions.

A petition of citizens favoring the appointment of James C. Croft as Street Commissioner was presented and on motion was received and placed on file.

Another long list of names of those favoring James Church for that position was read and treated in like manner as the other.

Ald. Cox presented a petition signed by thirty-three residents of the Second ward, in favor of the cows still allowed free pasture on the streets. Placed on file.

The application of Joseph Churchill for a saloon license was received, and referred to the appropriate Committee, who referred it back without recommendation. The license was refused, all the Aldermen voting not to grant it, except Ald. Hemming and Robinson.

A lengthy document was read by the Clerk, from James Maurice Smith, who, through his attorney, A. Hyatt Smith, demanded a rebate of taxes assessed on certain water lots in 1869 and 1870. The taxes and interest at seven per cent, amounted to $470.02; and the additional interest, which Smith claimed should be paid as a matter of equity, it having been paid by him in redeeming the lots from tax sale, amounted to $193.84. The matter was referred to the Judiciary Committee, and another meeting of the society will be. Father Doyle was granted a vacation of two months his health being such as to necessitate a change and a rest.

SAFEST AND SUREST.
